CORPORATION ADVOCATE OLINEY.

New York Press.—How much longer is Richard Oliney, the paid servant of the corporations he is employed to prosecute, to remain the Attorney General of the United States? Mr. Cleveland brought lasting disgrace upon his administration by his persistent retarding of the Government's chief law officer, the agent of a corporation whose profits depended upon the decisions of the Federal courts. Are we to have another scandal of the Pan-Electric type? Does the President think it a wise thing to embitter his Administration with another Garland in the person of Corporation Counsel Oliney?

No two opinions are possible in regard to Oliney's continued connection as legal counsel and director with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and Boston and Maine Railroads. It is an offense not alone against professional ethics, but against common fairness and common decency. The Attorney General of the Nation, paid to defend the Nation's interests, complacently drawing a huge salary from corporations which he may be required at any time to impeach for offenses against the law is in the highest degree shameful and humiliating.

Oliney should get out of the Cabinet. In retaining this regularly engaged corporation champion as Attorney General the President is degrading the Department of Justice. The American people will not tolerate the transformation of the Attorney Generalship into a corporation annex.

BY WHAT RIGHT WAS THE FLAG LOWERED?
New York Press.—It is a fortunate thing for Mr. Cleveland that the Senate has adjourned. If he had remained in session a single week longer the date of the Democratic Presidential election would have been discussed in the terms which it deserved by Republican Senators. The resolution offered by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, asking by whose authority the Stars and Stripes had been hauled down in Honolulu, was an inquiry the Administration would have found it hard to answer.

The American Flag had been raised in Hawaii by the action of the regularly accredited Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States. It had been raised in response to the request of Hawaiian officials. It represented at once the moral and the material force of the Republic. The flag had lowered and the Nation was humiliated by the order of an individual who, if he possesses any official status, occupies a position distinctly inferior to Minister Stevens. In his ridiculously bombastic letter to Provisional President Doe Mr. Cleveland said: "I have made choice of James H. Blount, one of our distinguished citizens, as my special commissioners to visit the Hawaiian Islands to make a report to me concerning the present status of affairs in that country." The Constitution declares of the President:

"He shall have power by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the Senate concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls. But the Congress may by law vest the appointment of such inferior officers as they think proper, in the President alone, or in the courts of law, or in the heads of departments."

He shall have power by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the Senate concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls. But the Congress may by law vest the appointment of such inferior officers as they think proper, in the President alone, or in the courts of law, or in the heads of departments.

Mr. Blount is not an Ambassador, a public Minister or Consul. The Minister to Hawaii nominated by President Hayes and confirmed by the Senate is still in office. He is not even a regular member of the Senate, but appears as a Senator, other public Ministers and Consuls. But the Congress may by law vest the appointment of such inferior officers as they think proper, in the President alone, or in the courts of law, or in the heads of departments.

In ordering the individual whom he absurdly designates as "my special commissioner" to drag the symbol of the Republic in the dust, Mr. Cleveland has performed an act which bears every appearance of a wanton contempt of the usurpation of power.

The President of the United States is not an autocrat. He is merely the first servant of the Nation. The officials who are entitled to represent this country abroad cannot be described by any President as "my commissioners."

They are the commissioners and representatives of the American people, and their credentials are valid and worthless unless their appointment is confirmed by the Senate of the United States. The American people ask, with just and increasing indignation: By whose authority was the American Flag hauled down in Hawaii? Let the un-American President who has wilfully dishonored the Stars and Stripes answer if he can.

MAYSVILLE REPUBLICAN.

SECOND YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, APRIL 20, 1893.

ONE CENT.

If you have friends visiting you, or if you are going away on a trip, please drop us a note to this effect.

Mrs. Charles G. Cady is on a visit to her son Will S. Cady at Frankfort.

Colonel Henry C. Myers of the state of Louisianis was in the city yesterday.

James H. Hall and son have returned from their winter's sojourn in New Orleans.

S. M. McNeil of Mayfield was in the city yesterday, having up his box as Postmaster of that place.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hastings, after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Poole, returned this morning to Indianapolis.

THE HOOPSKIRT.

And must it come—the skirt of other days. Amphitheatric and vast, the terror of the world, the skirt of the Queen of Sheba! of small dogs fleeing from the wrath of the horse railway! Umbroorous horror, of the horse railway! Umbroorous horror! Mortgaged over the land; must the patient horse, and the calm car! a walking haystack! Learn now to look upon the world as it is. Forbid it, poor Cousins, Sister Louisa, and the rest of us!—and the last two days of flats, whose latitudinal spread is in itself a wonder, have been provided. There is no room for the hoop skirt. It belongs to the dead past. Its home is in oblivion. There it remains.

MAYSVILLE WEATHER.

What We May Expect for the Next Twenty-four Hours.

THE LEDGER'S WEATHER SIGNALS.

WEATHER SIGNALS—WARM.

Blowing from the south with great warmth.

If clouds break—will warm again.

If clouds break—cooler will follow.

Unless black shown—no change we'll see.

The above forecasts are made for a period of thirty-six hours, ending at 8 o'clock on Friday evening.

IKE WATKINS is having his meat store repainted and renovated generally.

P. J. MURPHY the Jeweler will soon have a handsome steel ceiling under which to display his elegant stock of diamonds and silverware. No city has handsomer stores than are to be seen in Mayfield.

TAKE stock in the third series of "The People's Building Association," coming May 6th, 1893. Call on Robert L. Baldwin, Secretary; John Duley, Treasurer; C. L. Salle, Attorney; and the Directors.

A SLANDEROUS report is being circulated by the stockholders of the company, who sold the company to the trust fund, that the price of the stock bears no relation to its intrinsic value because the character of the people is the practice of blowing their own horn. The rumor is indignantly denied by the Women's Columbian Club.

The Lexington and Covington Turnpike Company, with the Suspension Bridge Company, will test the constitutionality of the law as requiring a reduction of toll. The law will not affect in a great degree the tolls of the company, but it will increase the cost of doing business.

LUCY WILKINSON was detained yesterday by the Circuit Court Jury at Owenton. Lucy is a damsel of the colored persuasion who walked into church two years ago and has never left since. She is a widow, a good woman, and mother of four. Her husband, however, is in the back. The defense made no surprising excuse that the woman had become insane from breeding over her shame, and the verdict added another surprise.

LEOPOLD STROUSE, one of Baltimore's merchant princes, in company with his son, and David Rechman, sole agent yesterday for Dan Mitchell's stock farm. The result was the purchase by Mr. Strouse of a pair of magnificent horses for his private use. The price $1,200, which will be considered cheap enough when it is seen how Mr. St. will "dust" the Baltimore chaps.

A popular bandy for colds.

J. B. Copeland of Maysville, Penn., who has been engaged in the drug business in Kansas, New Jersey, Florida, New York and Pennsylvania for the past many years, has recently sold his stock and is now selling cough medicine I have ever heard." People who use this remedy are so much pleased with it that they will not let him go. The price is $1.25, which will be considered cheap enough when it is seen how Mr. St. will "dust" the Baltimore chaps.

THE young bloods of Union county appear bent upon acquiring fame as "shootists." The latest fad in that region is the selection of a neighbor's front door for a target, regardless of the effects of the bullets they are passing through the portal.

ONE OWENSBORO man is not enthusiastic about the proposed visit of Sam Jones to that city. He has written to Sam to advise him to postpone the committee from carrying out the purpose of building the Jones tabernacle on a lot adjoining his residence. He thinks it will become a nuisance if left there permanently.

EARLY MORNING FIRE.

Blaze at the Grocery Store of M. F. Coughlin, Coughlin.

Fire broke out this morning at 8:30 o'clock in the grocery store of M. F. Coughlin on East Third street. Before it extinguished its stock of goods was well nigh ruined, water greatly damaging what was not consumed by the flames.

The origin of the blaze is not known but is supposed to have come in some manner from the stove. Mr. Coughlin and his brother were asleep in a room upstairs and had a short time in which to vacate. A heavy downpour of rain at the time helped to keep the fire within bounds.

Mr. Coughlin cannot fully estimate the loss of his stock, composed of groceries and notions. He is insured for $10,000.00 and the value of Dulles Baldwin, and it is not expected that the loss will exceed these figures.

The building is the property of William Fitzgerald and was damaged but little, probably not over $100. Fully insured.

The most severe of all, however, was the loss of A. B. Peirce in the same building was not hurt, and Mr. Peirce is attending to the wants of his customers as usual this morning.

COLONEL E. COOK has quit the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati trade. A compromise was effected between the Pittsburgh and White Collar Lines, with the understanding that if the latter would not accept the Coupe-off the trade would not accept freight between Cincinnati and Palmer and Pomery.

GOVERNO BROWN's veto of the charter of Louisville is a clear cut document and presents some constitutional points difficult to evade. A few days ago there was a good deal of talk about the Coupe-off, but now that the Coupe-off has been agreed upon, the new measure seems so strong and convincing that it is not likely any effort will be made in that direction, and if it should it would hardly succeed.

THE MAYFIELD CARRIAGE CO.

Receiver Asked for to Take Charge of Its Affairs.

As briefly stated in yesterday's LEADER, a receiver will be appointed to take charge of the affairs of the Mayfield Carriage Company.

The Mayfield Carriage Company is composed of Edward Myall, J. G. Shadwick and Philip S. Kemper, and began the business of the manufacture and sale of carriages, buggies, etc., on January 1st, 1880, and are still in business. They are situated on West Second street, and the company has been considered among Mayfield's most prominent industries.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND's summer home is "Belvoir." Jeff Davis' Southern home was "Beaumont." So GROVER very appropriately poses as the "belles" of the Southern "beau."

THE present Democratic Administration is opposed to Protection in every form, is shown in the fact that it has hauled down the American Flag that was raised to protect the lives and property of American citizens in Hawaii.

THE Cleveland Government will hereafter be known as the Administration which hauled down the American Flag. By that term it will go down to history; by that designation it will be stigmatized in the mind and memory of every true American.

"This is a Democratic Administration," says The New York Journal. Yet, a newspaper in Texas has been emptied of all its free gold, that the surplus has had a slice hacked out of it, and that the country is confronted with the possibility of a premium on gold, is indisputable proof on that point.

It will be observed that THE LEDGER spells the American Flag with a big A and a big F, because it believes these two of the biggest and best words in the language. "If any man hauls down the American Flag, shoot him on the spot," said Secretary-of-War Dix; and General Dix's laconic command ought to be as good now as it was in '91.

TO THE RESCUE.

No Fear That Shipments Will Cut Down Free Gold.

Western Banks Pouring the Yellow Metal into the U. S. Treasury.

It is Believed the Westerners Will Continue to Offer Gold to the Department, and Make Up for the Drain on the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The Westerners Wednesday morning, and the result was that to-night there was about a million and one hundred thousand and some odd dollars of free gold in the treasury. There are no signs now that the situation Saturday will cut down the free gold so as to make it a minus quantity. There is each day a certain amount of gold taken in at the sub-treasuries throughout the country, and this adds to the free gold.

The general belief is, however, that the Westerners will continue to offer gold to the department, and in this way make up for the drain upon the treasury, which has caused anxiety in financial circles.

It is stated at the treasury that any amount of gold will be stopped the redemption in gold of the treasury notes of 1894, and it is asserted that nothing will be done until the emergency compels action. It is said that the policy of the treasury department will be to let the gold payment of the government notes down to a certain extent the gold reserve, and last, to issue the bonds. If bonds are issued, it is stated that they will not be offered in America, but in Europe, where the general value of gold in the country would be increased. In this connection, the trip of I. Pierpont Morgan to Europe is mentioned.

It is almost impossible to get any accurate information from the treasury, for the secretaries will not talk and the other officials are by his orders prevented from talking. Further, the statement of the condition of the treasury made each day is late in appearing, so that calculations cannot be made from it at the moment.

The most accurate statement that can be found is to the effect that it is Secretary Carlisle's purpose to notify the New York banks that if the free gold is drawn upon so that none is left, it will be necessary to call in the notes for the deficiency. The question is whether President Cleveland will sustain the secretary in this movement.

A Peacock Case.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Assistant Secretary Hamlin has decided a peculiar case. A Mr. Aspinwall, a jeweler, had deposited temporarily, carrying with him his effects, among which was a colt two months old. He returned two years afterward, and the collector at Cape Vincent, N. Y., charged him duty on the colt, and he was compelled to pay the same in value. Mr. Hamlin decided that in such circumstances when the value of animals had been increased by natural growth, and not by "any process of manufacture or other means," animals of domestic origin were entitled to free entry.
